Albertsons

Thinks

You're Stupid

Albertsons thinks you're stupid.

It's true.

Do you remember the grocery strike?

Five months long and an inconvenience to millions.

But the workers won because you stood by us.

Thank you.

Now Albertsons is selling your local store to non-union Bristol Farms.

But Bristol Farms is owned by Albertsons.

So why would they do that?

Albertsons plans to fire the Union employees at this store and replace them with low paid workers, who won't get Union pensions or Union healthcare.

They won't have a Union contract, or the protection it provides.

And Albertsons is hoping that you aren't smart enough to notice.

Don't let them get away with it.

Tell Albertsons what you think!
